

Editorial

Despite a very busy 1974 with plenty of activities occupying everyone, I was a little surprised to find fewer articles for Ubique No 8 than I had expected. However I did receive enough to enable me to put out one of the largest editions of Ubique since its conception.

Something new this year appears in the magazine and that is printing on both sides of the paper for the first time, (industrial disputes permitting!) I hope that this makes the magazine more presentable. Your comments on this and the magazine in general would be welcome.

This year has been an extremely successful one for the Unit and it is difficult to pick out one particular highlight, although the winning of the County Athletic Competition and this years Summer Camp to Switzerland must be more or less top of the list. Both are reported on in the magazine.

My personal thanks go to Steve Sullivan without whose help this magazine would never get printed and also to those who have bothered to write articles without which there wouldn't be a magazine to produce.

Editor:-

Ewen Anderson, 32 Hepworth Road, Streatham, London, S.W.16 5DQ.